“Korea and France in the Globalizing World”

Joint Workshop and Business Seminar

12 December 2006

*Sciences Po,
Graduate School of International Studies, Seoul National University,
Chambre de Commerce & d'Industrie Corée France*

Summary

These Joint Workshop and Business Seminar are planned as a concerted effort undertaken by Sciences Po, the Graduate School of International Studies (GSIS) of Seoul National University (SNU), and the Chamber of Commerce and Industries of Korea and France (CCICF) to celebrate the 120th anniversary of diplomatic relations between France and Korea.

This event is designed to combine both the academic scholarship and the economic management expertise, bringing together the scholars of international relations, political economy and history, along with the businessmen, consultants, and analysts from Korea and France.

Presenters and discussants will share their views on the past and present of French-Korean relations and offer some recommendations on the strengthening of political and economic cooperation between the two countries in the 21st century. Eventually, we shall get a better and bigger picture of the place which Korea and France will occupy in the globalizing world.

Presenters and Discussants

The joint participation of scholars from Sciences Po, GSIS SNU, and INALCO, along with the representatives of Korean business circles accredited in France, will help this Joint Workshop and Business Seminar become a remarkable forum where academic expertise and creative business thinking complement each other.
