

Dear colleague,

The German Association for Asian Studies (DGA) is inviting paper proposals for upcoming DGA Conference on Contemporary Asia, which will be held April 3–5, 2019 in Würzburg, Germany. The conference languages will be German and English. The deadline for paper abstract submissions is October 7, 2018, 6:00pm (CET).

To submit a paper abstract, please follow the link <http://dga-conference.de/call-for-papers/>, select the panel from the list of panels that you are interested in. Click on a title, and you will find a detailed panel description and a form for submitting your paper proposal. Follow the instructions. Since each panel will only be able to accommodate 3-4 papers, we strongly advise early submission of paper proposals.

If you want to submit a proposal for an individual paper that does not seem to fit into any of the listed panels, please click at the respective link below the list. Only a limited number of individual papers not assigned to any panel will be accepted.

Paper proposals will be reviewed by the panel organizers in cooperation with the conference organizers. Notification of paper acceptance/rejection will be sent until October 22, 2018.

Registration for the conference will start October 22, 2018.

Final acceptance as panel organizer and/or paper presenter requires conference registration before November 15. This is necessary for issuing formal acceptance letters to participants who need to apply for a German visa. It also facilitates further planning and preparations and ensures that full information on all panels will be included in the printed conference materials.
