

Letter of Invitation

Re: Associate Editor for Korea Religions

Dear Sir/ Madam,

Bloomsbury Publishing is a leading British independent publishing house established in 1986. As the company's growth from 2008 is primarily attributable to the development of its academic and professional publishing division, the Bloomsbury Academic & Professional division won the Bookseller Industry Award for Academic, Educational & Professional Publisher of the Year in both 2013 and 2014.

Therefore, they wish to create an academic book series in East Asian Religions, so-called "The Bloomsbury Book Series in East Asian Religions." In this regard, I, as the Series Editor, would like to visit you as an Associate Editor (Korean religions).

The Series will be interdisciplinary in approach. It encourages a systematic use of different methodologies, such as history, religious studies, anthropology, sociology, ethnology, myth, culture studies, politics, archaeology, tourism, economic, anthropology, philosophy, theology, international relations, literature, psychology, translation, and regional studies. It also covers the periodical concept of ancient, medieval, modern and contemporary subjects.

If you are interested to be part of the Bloomsbury project (between 2019 and 11/2025), please let us know your below details by 25th Aug., 2019 with one sample article and CV (less than 4 pages). Then, we will let you know the final decision:

- Name:
- Affiliation:
- Nation(s) (or region) of research:
- Subject(s) of research:
- Methodology(ies) of research:

Sincerely,

Dr David William Kim,
Department of Political and Social Change,
Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs,
Australian National University,

Canberra, ACT, 2601, Australia.
Tel : + 61 (0)2 6125 3048

New Book: Colonial Transformation and Asian Religions in Modern History (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, 2018)
<https://www.cambridgescholars.com/colonial-transformation-and-asian-religions-in-modern-history>