

Call for papers

KOREA EXPLORING THE WORLD: global and local challenges of the late nineteenth – mid-twentieth century

International conference

Higher School of Economics, Moscow, Russia

October, 14-15, 2022

The late nineteenth – mid-twentieth century was a turning point for the political, social, cultural, and other systems of the Korean peninsula. At that time, Korea crossed the boundaries of its traditionally formed civilizational limits and started to explore the world outside of Northeast Asia.

The Conference is aiming to shed a light on this dramatic transitional phase of Korean history. Its organizing committee is aiming to provide a platform for in-depth academic and scientific exchanges between specialists majoring in the Northeast Asian region. Therefore, we will welcome presentations focusing on Korea's history, politics, economy, and culture of the above-mentioned period.

Two workshop sessions, focusing (1) on problems of teaching theoretical disciplines in Korean studies and (2) challenges of teaching the Korean language in a new educational context will be held as a part of the conference to develop recommendations for improving the effectiveness of student learning and interdisciplinary consistency of curricula.

Selected presentations will be recommended for publication in the conference proceedings.

To apply for the conference, please submit your full name, affiliation, academic degree, and contact detail, as well as an abstract of a maximum of 300 words (including 5-6 keywords) to the following email address: HSE.confkor2022@gmail.com

Important details and dates:

- Submission of abstracts: July 30 of 2022.
- Notification of acceptance: August 20 of 2022.
- Submission of papers: October 1 of 2022.
- Working languages of the conference: Russian, English, Korean.
- Format of the conference: on the site and online (mixed format)
- The organizing committee is not responsible for participants' transportation and accommodation expenses during the conference.