

Hawai'i's Archives of the Korean Diaspora

Plantation Labor, Korea's Independence, POW Internment, Kalama Valley Protests, Comfort Women Records

Joint Conference of the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa's Center for Korean Studies and South Korea's National Institute of Korean History

October 30, 2024 · 9:30 am - 4:30 pm
October 31, 2024 · 9:30 am - 12:30 pm
Center for Korean Studies Conference Room

DAY I

9:40 - 10:00 am	Edward Shultz (UHM)	Welcoming Remarks
10:00 - 10:30 am	Keynote: Minchul Kim (NIKH)	Historical Understandings in Collision and the Unstable Old Order: Toward the Overcoming of Historical Denialism
10:30 - 11:00 am	Chiyeon Hwang (UHM)	Labor and Life of Koreans in Hawaii's Sugar Plantations in Early 20th Century
11:00 - 11:30 am	Wonkeun Lee (UHM)	Korean Prisoners of War at Honolulu and the Everyday Experience of the Korean Diaspora in Hawai'i during the Pacific War
2:00 - 2:30 pm	Sulim Kim (UHM)	Hawai'i's Korean Diaspora and Korea's Independence Movement in Early 20th Century
2:30 - 3:00 pm	Cheehyung Harrison Kim (UHM)	The Korean Diaspora's Participation in the Hawai'i Sovereignty Movement of the 1970s
3:00 - 3:30 pm	Eun Bin Ladner-Seok (UHM)	Hawai'i's 'Comfort Women' Documents during the Pacific War

DAY 2

9:30 - 10:00 am	Keynote: Mary Yu Danico (UHM)	The Role Archives in the Globalized and Digitalized World
10:00 - 10:30 am	Yonggyung Chang (NIKH)	NIKH's Oral History Project and the Possibility of a New Historicization: Thoughts on Oral History of Diasporas
10:30 - 11:00 am	Daehoon Jeong (NIKH)	The State of Research on Hawaii's Immigration History

