

Master of Arts in Foreign Languages

CONCENTRATION IN KOREAN

한국학 석사

College of Humanities and Social Sciences
DEPARTMENT OF MODERN AND CLASSICAL LANGUAGES
George Mason University®

Scan me!

Application Deadlines

Summer: April 1

Fall: May 1

Spring: Nov 15

Why Attend?

The Korean MA at George Mason University has special strengths in critical cultural studies, translation studies, diaspora studies, and interdisciplinary approaches to Korean studies. Students in the program benefit from Mason's location and access to the academic and cultural resources of Washington, D.C., as well as the Songdo Mason Korea campus. The program prepares students for a subfield of Korean Studies and professional careers in federal and local government, the private sector, non-governmental and international organizations, educational institutions, and the translation field.

Learn more at:

<https://mcl.gmu.edu/programs/la-ma-frln-kore>

Korean Graduate Advisor, Professor Jung, yjung3@gmu.edu